FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Ques Industries' kosher chemical formulas feed specialty food processing market

Cleveland, OH, August 21, 2009 — Ques Industries has added two products to its kosher certified formula offerings, increasing the total to eleven. This certification demonstrates Ques' continued commitment to fulfilling customer needs. Kosher food processors require every component in their facilities to be kosher, including processing chemicals. Ques' kosher formulas include boiler water treatments, return line treatments, and sludge conditioners.

Rabbi Shimon Gutman from Cleveland Kosher supervised the certification process after a comprehensive review of Ques' ISO 9001 approved facility as well as each component in the formula. The Cleveland Kosher logo will appear on Ques' kosher certified product labels, indicating that the products were formulated within strict kosher standards.

About Ques

Ques Industries was founded in 1983 by Quentin Meng to offer private label blending and toll manufacturing of dry and liquid water treatment chemicals. The company serves startup ventures as well as established marketers who prefer to focus on sales and marketing and choose to outsource the manufacturing portion of their business. Ques offers blending per customer formulations, blending per house formulations, and custom blending to meet customers' needs. Specialized water treatment products include boiler water treatments, cooling water treatments, closed system treatments, microbiocides, waste water treatments and chemical specialties.
